

Peter Skjoedt

Director of Financial Stability and Regulation

Peter leads The Geneva Association's research programme on Financial Stability and Regulation. The programme focuses on ensuring that policy measures to strengthen international capital standards and regulation more generally target the real underlying risk and are developed with due attention to the insurance business model.

Before joining The Geneva Association, Peter worked at the Danish Insurance Association, where he started in 1993 and held a number of positions, most recently International Advisor. For the Danish insurance sector, Peter has worked on prudential regulation—accounting, taxation, solvency and investment issues.

Peter has also been a lecturer at Copenhagen University and Copenhagen Business School, teaching a range of classes on pension economics.

Peter holds a Master's degree in Economics from Copenhagen University.
